

SENIOR CITIZENS IN DALY CITY plan to plead their case before the city council at its regular meeting May 22. The elderly will ask the city to push for HUD (Housing and Urban Development) support of developer Bernard Hagen's senior citizen complex approved by the city almost a year ago. Hagen needs HUD approval on allocation before construction can begin. The complex would be built near the Mission-East Market street area.

U.S. Assures D.C. On Housing Needs

An official of the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) has assured Daly City officials the government is aware of the housing needs of low-income elderly families in the North County.

And they will make every effort to meet these needs as soon as possible, he added.

Meanwhile, scores of elderly low-income Daly City residents are awaiting HUD to complete reviews of two Daly City proposals — one by Bernard Hagen and the other by the Campos Dorados for complexes in the Market-Mission Street section of the city.

As soon as the proposals have been rated, possibly within the next 30 days, the developers will be notified of any potential funding, according to a letter dated May 5 from HUD's Program Manager for the San Francisco-North County area, Barney Deasy.

Deasy reminded City Manager David Rowe in his letter that funds for such projects are extremely limited and "only the highest quality proposals can be approved."

"As program funds become available, all projects will be considered against published selection criteria," Deasy said.

Both developers of the senior citizen complexes have sought assistance from the San Mateo County Housing Authority's leased housing program, Deasy pointed out.

However, the Housing Authority has reached its full authorization of housing units and a request for an increase in this number of units has been applied for, it was learned.

Deasy said as soon as the authority's request for this increase is received, they "hope to be able to act favorably" on it.

New Security Measures for S.S.F. Court

Additional security measures at the Northern District Municipal Court building in South San Francisco have gone into effect at the request of the San Mateo County Grand Jury.

Grand Jury Foreman Courtney Kurtz said the new security arrangements were agreed on last night at a meeting of the Grand Jury with Henry P. Tarratt, county director of building construction and general services; Assistant Sheriff M. U. Craik and South San Francisco Police Chief Sal Rosano.

"We got very good cooperation," Kurtz commented.

He said that as of this morning the sheriff's office is assigning two deputies to the north county facility for security purposes. They will augment deputies serving as bailiffs in the courts there.

Also, Kurtz reported, wooden doors of holding rooms in the new section of the court building will be replaced as soon as possible by steel doors with steel bolt locks, and that wire mesh will be installed in the holding rooms adjacent to the courtrooms to separate prisoners from the guards.

Rosano charged earlier this month following dedication of the new courthouse wing that the holding facilities were "totally inadequate to serve the need for which they were designed."

Kurtz said that the Grand Jury's jail committee toured the courthouse and that all members of the body viewed a closed circuit TV film of the facility at last night's meeting.

S.S.F. Man Is Wounded

A South San Francisco husband was in critical condition today at Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City after his wife allegedly shot him twice in the abdomen during an argument.

Detective Sergeant George Baptista said the matter is still under investigation. However, from details available it was alleged that Mrs. Joyce Cimmer, 30, shot her husband, Daryl Lee Cimmer, 32, during a family quarrel inside the couple's home at 208 Dundee Drive shortly after 1 a.m. Saturday.

The husband was rushed to hospital after Mrs. Cimmer called police and told them she had shot her husband.

Tried to Save JESD Money And Space Allocations on Portables, Greenwood Says

By FRANK LAPIERRE

There are space savers. And there are money savers.

Jefferson Elementary School District superintendent Frank L. Greenwood has placed himself in both categories.

The superintendent said he violated State Educational codes dealing with construction of relocatable classrooms in an effort to save Daly City taxpayers money and classroom space allocations.

He made the disclosure both in a prepared 13 page report covering portable classrooms at Fernando Rivera, M. P. Brown, Westlake, General Pershing and George Washington schools, and in a press interview at the district Administration Building.

The Fernando Rivera portables have come under stern criticism from homeowners in the posh Westlake Estates section of Daly City, and from school board trustees Mrs. Beverly Forrester and Mrs. Dorothy Adams.

The two female members of the JESD Board have charged

Greenwood and his aide, Roger Barthuli, committed a felony by breaking the law governing purchase and erection of such structures.

In two opinions issued on February 1, 1972 the District Attorney's office pointed out irregularities in both a change order affecting construction of foundations for the structures, and the district's actions in failing to comply with pertinent sections of the Education Code in such matters.

Frank Greenwood

For one thing, deputy district attorney, Keith V. Breen said in his opinion, the district did not hire an architect, engineer or a certificated inspector to watch over the portable projects as required by law.

To this charge, Greenwood replies that had he complied with the letter of the law and hired such an inspector with district funds, taxpayers would have been out some $33,030 in architectural fees. He based this figure on an estimate offered by McSweeney and Schuppel Architects of San Francisco.

In order to comply with the District Attorney's February opinion and existing state laws, the district obtained the services of consulting engineer G. A. (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

DC Hopes Of Funds Shattered

Daly City's hope that it would be able to provide some $280,000 in TOPICS money as matching funds to build a parking garage at the new rapid transit station on Knowles Avenue has been shattered by the state.

Through an elaborate shifting of monies from one fund to another the money would have become available from unallocated TOPICS funds and used as matching funds money to obtain $2.8 million in federal grants. Together these funds would have been used to build a modern multi-level garage at the Bay Area Rapid Transit station.

Without the addition, the BART garage will provide parking for only 950 cars. The additional level would have spaces for another 900.

But after lengthy talks on the matter attended by BART, city, state and highway division officials, the State Advisory Committee on TOPICS funds turned the request down.

The city will get some TOPICS funds for use on such projects as street lighting improvements, traffic signals and other traffic oriented programs. This amounted to some $108,000, it was understood.

City manager David Rowe said he had applied for matching fund monies under the new Urban Systems Act. Procedure for application and use of these monies is the same as for the TOPICS funds, he said.

In other action Monday, the city council in its public study session, considered a request to renew a current county library agreement for the community of Broadmoor.

The agreement between Daly City and the county to provide library services to Broadmoor was extended for one year in (Please See Page 2, Column 2)

Greenwood, Aides to Refund Pay Raises

The three Jefferson Elementary School District administrators who received what the district attorney's office ruled were illegal pay hikes will return the funds.

District Supt. Frank L. Greenwood stated in a news release issued from Daly City Friday that "all monies and residual benefits such as health . . . as a result of the December 21 (1971) action," received by Greenwood and associates Dr. Vinton Stratton and Roger Barthuli, would be returned.

This, he said, was "in light of" a letter, signed by the three trustees voting the 2 per cent pay hike last year to certification and classified employees, which indicated that the raises for administrators were not intended.

Board Chairman Dorothy Adams disclosed the letter Tuesday. She and Trustee Beverly Forrester and then Trustee William Schumacher signed the letter.

Greenwood that day called it "regrettable" that the trustees' letter had not been made known to him, his associates or the other members of the board prior to Tuesday's public declaration.

"Regardless of the legal technicalities of whether or not the action taken was binding on the board involved, and since neither he nor the other two members of the board were present when the action was taken on December 21, 1971, at 9:15 a.m., it is not our desire to receive benefits or wages that were not honestly intended by those who voted on the actual motion," the news release stated.

Based on a current attorney general's opinion, District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson last week advised Greenwood that the pay raises were illegal and must be refunded.

The increases were granted to the other district employees on the heels of the teacher strike in Daly City.

Greenwood, contacted later today, said he believed the amount to be returned to be about $500 plus an undetermined sum for fringe benefits.

Court Drops DC Dentist Charge

A charge of vehicular manslaughter against Daly City dentist Dr. Gregory W. Genovese was dismissed by Superior Court Judge W. Howard Hartley Wednesday on the basis that the blood sample obtained from the defendant constituted illegal search and seizure.

Judge Hartley said he was acting on the basis of a State Superior Court decision in March regarding a Kern County drunk driving case which held that taking a blood sample from a person without his consent and when he is not under arrest violates the defendant's constitutional rights.

Genovese, 36, was involved in a fatal accident September 22, 1971, and blood was taken from him at Mary's Help Hospital while he reportedly was in a semi-conscious condition. It was not until November 30, 1971, that a complaint was filed by the district attorney's office. Genovese was arrested on the manslaughter charge, after it was determined by a test of the blood that it assertedly contained a high barbiturate level.

Deputy District Attorney James Niven concurred in the judge's decision, stating the court had no alternative under the law.

However, charges will be refiled on the basis of other evidence not included in the original complaint, Niven said. He said the complaint was to be filed in Northern District Municipal Court today.

Genovese, a resident of Atherton and relative of two nationally known Mafia leaders, was charged in the death of Karen Lee Peterman, 20, of Millbrae, who was fatally injured when her car was involved in a collision with a car driven by Genovese on Junipero Serra Freeway in South San Francisco.

The dismissal action resulted from a motion by Genovese's attorney, James Martin MacInnis, for suppression of the blood sample as evidence because it had been taken without either the consent of the defendant or while he was under arrest, a situation almost identical to the Kern County case on which the Supreme Court ruled.

Portable Classrooms

Sedgwick. Sedgwick drew up plans and specifications and submitted them through proper channels to the State Office of Architectural Services for approval.

The Sedgwick report outlined certain items and costs relative to bringing the classrooms into accepted code standards.

A total expenditure of $13,724 is now needed to construct fire walls, install fire alarm systems, move foundations and re-align utility connections, among other things, the report noted.

But Greenwood says of this figure some $4,385 would have been included in the initial cost anyway had the district sought initial state approval, because the fire alarm systems would have had to be installed at that time.

"To this the administration can only reply that had an architectural firm been utilized, all costs shown above would have been practically identical and in addition the district would have had to pay $33,030 in architectural fees. Even those who insist that the cost of the fire resistant wall was a mistake must concede that in spite of that fact, the district still saved some $23,691, including the cost of moving the Westlake building," the JESD administration rationalized in its report to the Board this week.

The fire alarm systems, or lack of them in the portable classrooms, has been the subject of allegations hurled by some parents and trustees Adams and Forrester regarding fire safety of children there.

The balance of expenditures evolving around the portables is $9,339. This is the cost for moving the structures away from the property line.

Had the Board of Trustees chose a site elsewhere at Fernando Rivera, instead of some eight feet from the school boundary line, this cost would have been avoided, according to Greenwood's report.

"Critics of the procedures used in obtaining and locating the existing portable buildings state that had the district proceeded with an architect on each project and obtained approval of the various state agencies to begin with, the $9,339 would not have been wasted."

Asked why he never reported the portables to the State agency in accordance with current law, Greenwood said at the time the district was under State Aid for building schools program and the district would have been charged with the space. This "space" allocation might possibly be used to better advantage elsewhere he indicated.

In a split vote last week, the JESD Board moved to spend needed money to correct the deficiencies pointed out by Sedgwick and to approve plans drawn up by the firm.

The vote was 3-2 with trustees Forrester and chairwoman Adams voting against acceptance and asking for an amendment of the motion.

A minor uproar erupted in the packed meeting room when the vote was passed and Mrs. Adams closed the matter and moved on to other business.

She later explained "there was little sense" in further discussion on the matter because trustees Cranna, Thomsello and Collett had voted to accept the recommendations of Greenwood and accept the portables.

"I felt it was pointless for one such as I to direct questions on the subject," Adams said.

It was Forrester and Adams who first brought the portable questions to light. Adams said a change order concerning foundations for the structures concerned her.

1971. This contract expires on June 30, and while it could be automatically extended for an additional one year, Mayor Bernard Lyett asked the council to "study the entire service picture" in Broadmoor.

"Somewhere along the line this is going to have to be reevaluated," Lyett said in discussing the Broadmoor library services.

He said it was "about time" Broadmoor started paying for some of the services it is getting from us.

The county now pays Daly City $10 per registered Broadmoor library user with the annual minimum set at $15,000 per year. But the county collects almost 20 cents per $100 of assessed valuation on Broadmoor residents it was learned.

Broadmoor's current assessed valuation is $17.5 million.

Lyett has been critical in the past of providing Broadmoor residents with Daly City services such as refuse collection, library services and recreation.

In a letter to Miss Virginia Ross, county librarian, city manager Rowe said costs of services have risen sharply since the agreement was signed in 1969.

Damien House Must Clean Up

South San Francisco's Damien House will have to shape up or close its doors.

Councilmen Monday night said the controversial drop-in center has until September to stabilize its operation, including keeping the place physically clean.

City officials didn't go into exact detail on the problem Damien House is said to be causing. However, Councilman Bill Borba said he has received numerous complaints on the facility.

"We should take some action and get that house in shape," said Borba. "I don't think we should be lenient at all. I'm told of 12-year-old girls leaving home at night and being found at Damien House. It's about time we put clamps on."

City Manager Gale Dreisbach said that the Damien House's executive director has already been told that if the operation doesn't shape up the center's use permit will be revoked.

"There are a lot of good things (Damien House) does that are left unsaid," claimed Dreisbach. "I would have to violate confidences to make them public. But I believe more good comes from the operation than bad."

Dreisbach said he would "strongly urge" the council to abide by Police Chief Sal Rosano's recommendation to wait until the end of summer.

"He would like to salvage whatever is salvageable," said Dreisbach. "If it doesn't straighten out by the end of summer we'll close it."

Borba said he had no objection to the delay. Damien House's lack of cleanliness was noted by City Planner Dan Pass in a letter dated March 7 to the County Department of Public Health and Welfare.

In that letter Pass said that when the use permit was granted one of 20 conditions was that by September 1 of each year Damien House submit a letter to the city from the health department stating that it meets health standards.

Pass also said that the planning commissioners took a field trip to Damien House and found it to be "maintained in a messy, unkempt, and scruffy condition, and in strong need of a regimen and ethic of cleanliness."

A letter dated March 16 from Henry F. Eich, county public health engineer, to Pass, chided the city planner for his concern.

"I am sure that you are well aware from your past experience that in establishments open to the public the maintenance may be excellent on one day and regrettably sad on the next," said Eich's letter in part.

He told Pass that a housing specialist made an inspection and that "the establishment was in reasonable condition."

SSF Council Appoints New Safety Group

Assuming they are all willing to serve, a 13-member public safety committee of the South San Francisco's Citizens' Committee on Capital Improvements was appointed Monday night.

Mayor Frank Mammimi said this group had previously worked many hours in preparing recommendations on public safety capital improvements needs for the last council, and their efforts were for naught.

The body was never officially sanctioned by the previous council, although Mammimi and Councilman Warren Steinkamp urged acceptance of the committee's recommendations.

Mammimi said the committee "perhaps can lend some help" to review the architect's plans and assist in site selection for the new facility. "They will be strictly advisory," said Mammimi.

Councilman Patrick Ahern, one of the councilmen who had previously balked at sanctioning such a group, did a 180 degree turn and seconded the motion. He gave no reason for his change of heart.

Bruno Dilemma

Should Bright Students Mix With the Average?

San Bruno Park School trustees decided late Monday night to hold over to their next meeting the controversial question of whether gifted children should have their own self-contained classrooms, or be "integrated" with classes in their own neighborhood schools.

A recommendation to discontinue the current pilot program on integrated classrooms and return to self-contained classrooms was made by Robert L. Rottman, associate superintendent-instruction.

Rottman reported that the current "Extended Basic" pilot program is "less than a complete success."

Under the current EBP, the children remain in their classrooms part of the day, and are bused to special EBP classes at Allen and Crestmoor elementary schools the remainder of the day.

He recommended, specifically, that the district return to the self-contained classroom for the third grade, continue with the integrated program for the second, and maintain the present fourth and fifth grade self-contained classrooms. The third grade program would be at Allen, as would also a special resource room for second graders.

A problem at Allen, he said, has been a lack of facilities, and he hoped to remedy that by next year. The district was also training a specialized corps of teachers for the program, he added.

He noted that the second grade teachers liked the program, except for the space problem; parents of the second and third grade children, however, split over the two alternative programs. Teachers preferred the integrated classroom, it having proved itself workable, but the children felt split between their home school and the school they went for their special class.

Several of the school trustees expressed deep reservations over the entire program.

Dave Paterson complained that the data was imprecise and the philosophy unclear of the program, so that there was no way of telling whether it was working. What happened to the children when they went into intermediate school was also a mystery, he noted.

Leonard Sarkon suggested that in view of the fact that the state pays only $4500 of the $55,000 cost of the program, that San Bruno try doing it alone. The money spent, he felt, could help many other students who are bright but do not fit the category of gifted children.

He also attacked the busing for self-contained classes.

"We are telling people that we cannot educate gifted children in our neighborhood school," he declared. He complained that bused children had few neighborhood friends.

Rottman replied that many such children failed to find friends they could relate to in their own neighborhoods but did make fast friends in their new special classes.

"They should learn to relate to all children," Sarkon retorted. "That's a handicap that they can't."

Trustee Chris Pallas asserted that he now refused to allow his children to attend gifted classes, even when they qualified.

He noted many teachers objected to classroom leaders being removed. Rottman replied that class leaders usually were those just below the gifted category.

N. County Mental Aid Funds Asked

Application for a federal grant to help finance a $750,000 yearly mental health program for the north area of the county was authorized Thursday by the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors.

Dr. George Pickett, county director of health and welfare, said the program actually was approved several years ago by the government, but that funds have only recently become available.

Funds, to be paid on a percentage basis by the county, state and federal governments, will be used for financing staffing of psychiatric facilities at Mary's Help Hospital and for mental health programs administered jointly through the County Health Department, the Guadalupe Health Center and the Mental Health Recovery Council.

D.A. Says Pay Increases Illegal

By FRANK LaPIERRE

The San Mateo County District Attorney had informed Jefferson Elementary School District superintendent Frank L. Greenwood the pay raise he and two other top administration officials received recently is illegal.

The Post learned last week less than a week after it first uncovered the discrepancies in pay raises in the light of a current Attorney General's opinion, that District Attorney Keith Sorenson had instructed Greenwood and assistants Roger Barthuli and Vinton Stratton to pay back a two percent pay salary increase, plus all fringe benefits received.

Greenwood publicly stated after receipt of the opinion that the district attorney's opinion would "have far reaching ramifications on superintendents' agree."

throughout the state of California.

He called it "common practice" for statewide school boards to approve superintendents' contracts "for any current year after July 1."

Last December, on the heels of the teachers' strike in the JESD, a special meeting was attended by trustees William Schumacher, Mrs. Beverly Forrester and Mrs. Dorothy Adams.

Their purpose was to grant certificated and classified employees of the district a two percent pay hike and increased fringe benefits for the remainder of the year, retroactive to July 1, 1971.

The three trustees, in a signed statement bared Tuesday, said they had no intention of granting the three administrators a pay raise. This point was made perfectly clear, the trustees

But Greenwood said he understood "all certificated personnel" includes him, Barthuli and Stratton.

The superintendent said the return of the money would present "an undue financial hardship" upon himself and his

Board Favors Bruno Route; Wants Study

The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors has reaffirmed its endorsement of the San Bruno Freeway but it wants an environmental impact study made of the project.

County Engineer S. H. Cantwell was asked by the board this week to request the study for the area where the freeway is planned but has not yet been constructed.

The State Division of Highways reportedly already is making such a study in the Crestmoor Canyon area where the freeway will pass.

Environmentalists are seeking to halt the freeway project between San Bruno and Pacifica west of Junipero Serra Freeway on the contention it will be damaging to the ecology of the area.

Supervisor Jean Fassler, who requested the environmental impact study, said it should "do a lot to alleviate charges that the Division of Highways is not meeting the criteria established in 1971."

assistants. He estimated his "overpay" at some $4,500.

Mrs. Dorothy Adams said the actual figure under discussion was more like $500 plus fringe benefits.

However, Greenwood's interpretation of the district attorney's opinion made all pay raises subsequent to any date before July 1 subject for possible recall of funds.

And such pay raises have happened many times since his arrival in the district in August, 1965, according to Greenwood.

The attorney general's ruling, which follows the same thinking as that opinion issued by Sorenson, is dated October, 1968.

In his opinion, Sorenson covers specifically the most recent raise taken by Greenwood and informs the superintendent that the board must take separate action—apart from that taken for classified and certificated personnel—in giving him a pay raise.

Both the District Attorney and Attorney General cite sections of the State Education Code (938) in granting the pay increases for school superintendents.

A clause in Greenwood's contract was sent by the superintendent to Sorenson Tuesday for further study.

The clause states:

"The salary rate (for Greenwood) for the subsequent three years may be determined by Board action annually prior to July 1; however the Board reserves the right to increase the superintendent's salary at any time. It is stipulated that the salary rate for the subsequent three years shall not be less than the salary rate paid during the first year of service."

Asked if this clause was known to the Board of Trustees, Mrs. Forrester replied "We know of it, but it is still in violation of the Attorney General's opinion on the issue."

It therefore makes no difference and does not have any effect on the fact that Greenwood and his aides took the salary raise which was not intended for them, Mrs. Forrester pointed out.

Trustee Edward Tomasello, in a heated discussion on the matter during a regular meeting Tuesday, called the pay increase talks for teachers last December "very badly handled."

At another point in the meeting, Mrs. Forrester accused the school administration of altering the minutes of the special December meeting and warned she had turned the evidence over to the District Attorney's Office for investigation.

Forrester motioned to have all "illegally received funds" returned to the district immediately. Mrs. Adams seconded the motion.

With only trustees James Cranna, Forrester, Adams and Tomasello in attendance, the motion died for lack of a majority vote.

Tomasello, following charges leveled by Forrester and Adams against Greenwood and Barthuli on the subject of the pay raises, called the discussion a "kangaroo court" and called Greenwood request for time to hear from the District Attorney on the new evidence presented for study, "very fair."

Bruno Peak Public Hearings

Public hearings to determine if 1000 acres on San Bruno Mountain should be designated as a regional park were authorized Thursday by the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors.

The hearings will be conducted by the County Planning Commission relative to the land lying south of Guadalupe Canyon Parkway opposite the "saddle" area and would extend almost to Hillside Boulevard.

It also was ordered that the county administrative staff discuss with Crocker Land Company, the federal government and other agencies concerning means for the county to acquire the property.

Supervisor Robert St. Clair, noting that the county is going to have to expend a considerable amount of money, perhaps $6 million, for a portion of the proposed park area, said he was "not satisfied that we're getting a good deal."

The supervisor proposed that the county "go to the developer (Crocker) and suggest he face his responsibility in dedication of land... the county should take a stern stand."

It was reported that the present proposal is for the county to purchase 520 acres, with an almost like amount to be dedicated by the developer. Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald aid was quick to point out that the board's action was in no way an indication of making an offer for purchase.

"This puts us in a position to negotiate the best possible deal," he said.

The action of the board, Fitzgerald added, is for proceeding with the hearings and for County Manager H. D. Tarshes is to continue to try and find ways of financing.

County Parks and Recreation Director John T. Brook said it was decided to seek the area south of Guadalupe Parkway because it would accomplish the primary aim of preserving the mountain top.

He reported that there would be 100 to 150 acres of developable land, with the remainder of steep, brushed, rugged terrain remaining in open space.

Brook said plans call for a network of hiking trails, equestrian trails, picnic areas, parking and vista areas.

Unification Vote Puzzles Laguna Trustees

By BOB PETERSON

The upcoming unification election this June 6 has trustees of the Pacifica Laguna Salada Elementary School District in a quandary.

One horn of that dilemma is whether to openly support unification, then hope it fails, so the district (if it went for unification, while over-all unification failed) would get a $20 per pupil per year "carrot" for voting for unification.

The other horn of the dilemma is whether to openly oppose unification for fear that openly supporting it might in fact push that already low-wealth district as a unified school system could be disastrous.

An added problem in determining what to do is compounded by the fact the voting procedure has changed in the interim since the last unification election.

It used to be that any one district voting against unification would mean that unification failed — even if it were five to one in favor.

However, according to a new law it will now take a simple majority vote to determine the unification outcome.

Although they took no pro or con stand, trustees did on a 3-2 vote instruct the district's staff to prepare a one-page fact sheet on unification for review at the next board meeting. At that time, trustees promised, they will let their feelings on unification be known.

Trustees Sid Lorvan and Will Frye voted against the preparation of the fact sheet because they said they felt it would be too difficult to be objective.

Superintendent Jim Brien, who has been personally involved in unification in other districts, said that in this case statistics are not being brought out. He said he preferred not to make any recommendation.

Brien did, however, mention "some things you should look for" in unification. He said there are some real "pros" for Pacificans voting for unification.

"The tax rate would go down, at least initially," he said. "Employees would get higher salaries. Pupils would have more educational opportunities."

"These sound good, but they are short-lived because of the tax rate," said Brien. "The problem of unifying districts where there is great disparity in wealth is a very serious one."

He said the tax rate set for the unified district is a ceiling based upon current budgets. This amount is increased by $20 per pupil as a bonus for unifying. Laguna Salada could keep that money if it voted for unification even though other districts' votes killed it.

"Generally, the new (unified) district attempts to provide the best of services found in the original districts. This becomes an impossibility (for Laguna Salada) without additional income," said Brien.

Citing the Jefferson Union High School District in Daly City (with which Pacifica would unify), Brien said the average salary for the high school teachers is $13,439. Jefferson Elementary School District's average is $11,850 while Laguna Salada's is $10,268.

Brien said to adjust the salaries of Laguna Salada's 900-member certificated staff up to the high school average would cost $1 million.

Regarding class size, he said one pupil-teacher ratio would have to be used throughout the unified district. Presently the ratio in Laguna Salada is 30.6 and in Jefferson Elementary 27.2. In order to bring Laguna Salada down to 27.2, it would take 35 new teachers at a cost of approximately $400,000, according to Brien.

The superintendent also noted that some other districts which would be involved in the unification with Laguna Salada have more auxiliary services and to raise the Pacifica district to these levels also would be costly.

"There are only two alternatives for a newly unified board in order to balance its budget," said Brien. "Ask the voters to raise the tax rate to pay for all the expenses or cut back on the expenses to balance the budget."

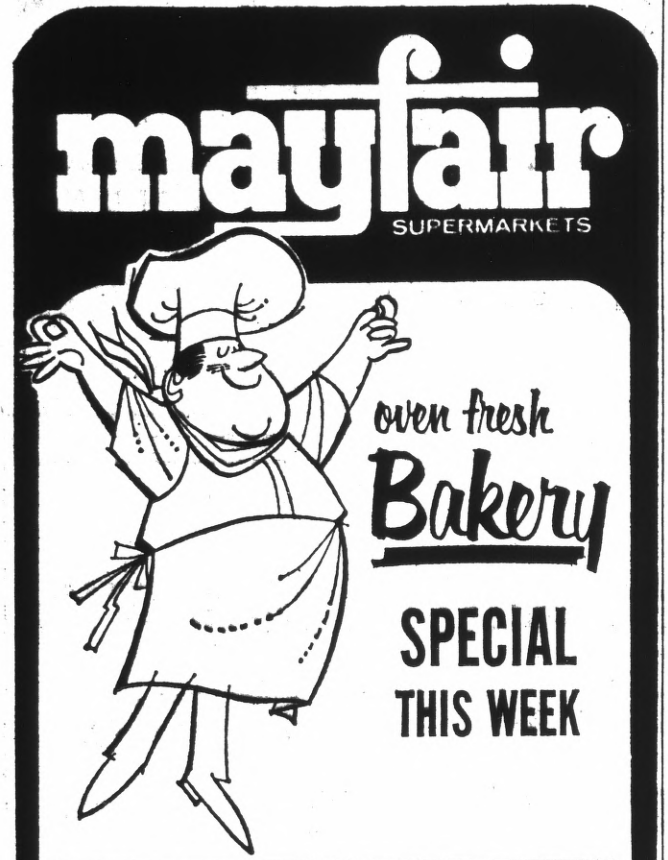

Trustee Dale Buettgenback said, "I'm not so sure we shouldn't encourage a yes vote and gamble for a no vote elsewhere (to get the $20 bonus)." He said he was of the opinion that Daly City's districts had nothing to gain by unification and would probably vote it down.

Board member Anita Heyman said, "The people in Daly City might go for unification as an answer for their internal problems. I think the risk is higher than you (Buettgenback) think it is."

Chairman Lee Riewerts said, "I personally don't care to play that (gambling game)."

Conquistadors Have Specail Bottle Issued

The Conquistadors Drum & Bugle Corps of South San Francisco and Ezra Brooks Distillery announce issuance of a special, limited edition collector's decanter in honor of the corps.

The handsome, red and white, drum-shaped ceramic bottle, with a platinum bugle for the cork, will be available within a few days through Ernie's Liquor Stores throughout Northern California and will be distributed nationally by collectors' clubs.

It is the first such collector's decanter ever issued honoring a youth organization. A share of the profits from its sale will go to the Conquistadors to help buy new instruments and equipment.

The decanter is decorated with a drawing of Conquistador in the corps' red, white and black caballero uniform. The art work was done by Mrs. Cay Nieman, of San Bruno.

The Conquistadors will be hosts to a competitive field contest among California corps scheduled for Sunday, June 18, at the South San Francisco High School football stadium, to which the public is invited.

Camp Fire Girl Groups OLPH and Filipino Take Outing to Napa Group Set Event

Two Camp Fire groups and one Discovery Club group from Daly City took a weekend campout at Napa Valley Ranch with the receipts from their recent Camp Fire candy sale. Enjoying their hard earned and well deserved campout were the Ko-Ki-Ta-Wan-Ka Discovery Club girls; Debbie Burrows, Cheryl Fluehr, Cheryl Freund, Gayle Rigoni, Betsy Spencer, and their leaders Mrs. Albert Fluehr, and Mrs. Richard Freund.

The fifth grade Camp Fire groups enjoying the outing were the Wa-Han-Ka group with Mrs. William Schoepp as guardian and the Ma-Nu-Ka-Wi-Ki-Ya group with Mrs. Joseph Acquistipace as guardian. Girls in the Wa-Han-Ka group are Lisa Acquistipace, Shelly La Bruzzo, Sherilyn McClure, Vickie Green, Heidi Berkl, Rosland Coubertson, Debby Piccolotti, Christine Shubunka, Yvette Fluehr and Yvonne Fluehr.

In Mrs. Schoepp's group are Corinne Schoepp, Janet McCarthy, Linda Flithian, Lynette Irwin, Colleen O'Callahan, Jackie Ryan, Melva Valle, Cathy Quinn, Ellyn Stuhr, and Laura Anderson.

Two Horizon Club girls, Karyn Stuhr, and Denise Phemister also went to help the girls and to lead them in song fests.

Highlight of the weekend for the girls was a group horseback trail ride after which they enjoyed a pancake and sausage breakfast provided by the club. Other than this meal the girls cooked all their meals over the open fire and the barbecue pits. They enjoyed such dishes as barbecue chicken, shish-ke-bobs, hamburgers, hot dogs, and french toast and "holes in the head" eggs cooked in bread with the center torn out.

Much of their time was spent in exploring the trails and creeks and in swimming, playing miniature golf, archery, ping pong and pool. Another highlight was a moonlight hay wagon ride.

A fourth grade group from Pacifica headed by Mrs. Pat Brien were also spending the weekend at the ranch and they joined the Daly City girls for a songfest around the camp fire. Denise and Karyn led the group in all the traditional Camp Fire Girls songs and also taught some new "for fun" songs.

Garden Club to Give 'Show Time'

The 16th annual standard flower show of the San Bruno Garden Club will be presented to the public on June 8 and 9.

It is scheduled to be held at the Dollar Savings and Loan Building, located at the corner of Jenevein and San Mateo avenues in San Bruno. Hours of the show will be 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day. Title of this affair is "Show Time" and San Bruno Garden Club members have been busy with their grooming and cuttings to put their best specimens in order.

With good summer weather and a little bit of luck, the show promises to be another spectacular flowery profusion of colors and hues.

Chairman of the show is Mrs. A. Norman Huff. Her co-chairman are Mmes. Ray Kirk and William Knill. Both have been past sweepstakes and special award winners in the previous shows of the club. Other committee members include the Mmes. Ellis Chandler, James Galvin, Ralph Landry, Bud Huebsch, Al Marty, Clarence Rolan, Fred Stachnick, Carlo Tonna and the Mrs. Frances Smith and Lydia Ferrel.

There will be both a horticulture section with both cut specimens and potted plants, including several collections of cacti and succulents. With many avid horticulturists in the club, this should prove to be one of the main sources of attraction in the show.

In the artistic division, will be found the always outstanding miniature section, where members vie with each other to see who can produce the smallest perfect specimen of a three inch or smaller flower arrangement. This entire class consists of flower arrangements, using both dried and fresh material, all under eight inches. A miniature silver "Paul Revere" bowl is given as the sweepstakes trophy in this section.

The regular artistic arrangement section of the show is divided into beginners, intermediates and the advanced classes and then groups compete together in the open division.

Terra Nova Topics

By ROCKIE MONTENEGRO

Sexual discrimination in employment was the topic of the talk given by USF law student Sonja Soehnell, who spoke last Wednesday to TN Civics and Government classes.

Although her speech was aimed at the female audience, she strongly stressed that sexual discrimination in employment also affected men.

"Ten per cent of the cases in FEPC (Fair Employment Practices Commission) were submitted by men" who complained about conflicts due to their length of hair, and discouragement from seeking traditionally female jobs such as phone operators and nurses.

"Sex discrimination in jobs also affects a man in another way. If his wife is working, and getting paid less than she should be, the whole family suffers, and her lower salary may affect such things as vacations or getting a new car," said Miss Soehnell.

The common myth that, "women don't have to work," was deftly attacked by the female law student, who used 1968 government figures to support her statement that 70 per cent of the women who work do so because of economic need.

She also illustrated that a woman's completion of a college education had little bearing on whether she got a high paying job or not. Her statistics showed that men having one to three years of high school education had the average salary of $7,958, while women who had gone through four years of college had an average annual income of only $7,300.

"Evidence in cases of sexual and racial discrimination are really mushy and hard to prove," said Miss Soehnell, but she encouraged people to file complaints to the FEPC if they feel they have been discriminated against. The necessary information required in filing complaints is the name and address of the company, the date that the discrimination occurred, and the name and title of the supervisor or employer who discriminated against you.

This information should then be sent to the Fair Employment Practices Commission (a state agency) or Equal Employment Opportunities (a federal agency). Both of these agencies are located in San Francisco.

She also gave some guidelines to students defining sexual discrimination, such as if a woman is told not to bother to fill out an application, if an employer refuses women applicants on the basis of the ability to lift over 25 pounds, if a woman is being paid less than a man who is doing the same job (and if the man has no seniority over her), or if she is qualified and the employer doesn't promote her to a supervisory job.

Some "bona-fide" examples of male only jobs were also given. "Obviously a woman cannot file a complaint because she didn't get a male role in a theatrical production." Another exclusively male job which she mentioned was that of a sperm donor.

Miss Soehnell stated that more and more lawyers are willing to take on job discrimination cases without pay because if they win the case, the court awards the fee. Usually they will do so only if they have a good chance of winning.

Although it may take a year or two for your complaint to be heard, she encouraged everyone to file complaints if they had a good case. The consequences are usually favorable, since the company is more apt to do something to alter their hiring practices if people continue to file complaints against them.

Pack 259 Gives Reports on Indian Tribes

At Pack 250's April Pack meeting, Den 1 gave oral reports on Indian tribes. They included: Greg Yanna-zzo-Cherokee; Kurt Zevas-Commanche; and Mike Leong-Navaho. New Webelos, Joe Vilas, Scott Cuevas and Steven Funk, were welcomed by Webelos leader Tom Hughes.

Greg Simon was graduated into Scout Troop 259 by an escort of seven Scouts who not only welcomed him, but whisked him away to an overnight Scout outing that night. Among his escorts were two older brothers, Eagle Scout Mike, and Don Simon.

April Awards went to Michael Leong, Kurt Zevas, Derek Cota, Marty Berlin, George Condon, Henry Braa, Tim O'Neill, Joey Lewkowicz, Rory Arnott, Reuben Villar, Mitchell Wu.

The monthly outing was a trip to the Lawrence Hall of Science on UC campus in Berkeley. Some thirty boys and parents were soon involved with computer games, voice machines, and all manner of scientific gadgets made and explained so that even some of the adults could understand them.

Nell Norton

Good morning, good cooks.

What do you think of an entree that uses 10 ounces of meat and serves 10 people? Unbelievable? Believe me, it's delicious and quite easy to prepare.

The meat is chipped beef and you will find as you prepare it, that 10 ounces makes a lot of meat in this dish.

I found it a good idea to cook the onions ahead and allow them to get cold as they are easier to cut this way. To make the beef less salty, soak it in hot water just before you make up the recipe.

CHIPPED BEEF AND GREEN BEAN BAKE

- 10 ounces chipped beef
- 4 Tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 packages frozen French style green beans, cooked
- 4 medium onions, cooked and cut into sixths.
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon curry powder
- 2 Tablespoons flour
- 1/2 cup Parmesan cheese
- 1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
- 1 cup milk

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Shred the ten ounces chipped beef and soak in boiling water for 10 minutes. Drain and pat dry with paper toweling. Sauté beef in the four tablespoons margarine until lightly browned. (As I mentioned earlier, when shredded, this is a lot of meat, so sauté it in two parts using two tablespoons margarine each time.)

Cook the two packages green beans, drain and pour into a lightly greased 9x15x2-inch pan.

Cut the four onions into sixths and arrange over the green beans. Spread the chipped beef over the top.

Combine the one-fourth teaspoon pepper, one-half teaspoon curry powder and two tablespoons flour with the half cup Parmesan cheese. Sprinkle over top of beef. Blend the one can mushroom soup with the one cup milk and pour over all. Bake uncovered in 350-degree oven for about 40 minutes or until bubbly and browned on top. 10 servings.

Since you have to have a hot oven anyway, why not start off your meal preparation by baking a cake? Apples are plentiful on the market, use them in this unusual recipe.

The first time I baked this cake I was sure that it got its name because anyone that baked it was crazy. The batter was stiff and lumpy as I pushed into the baking pan and I really had grave misgivings as I placed it in the oven.

My misgivings were unfounded, it came out perfect. A moist and delicious cake, almost a pudding cake, but firm enough to pack in lunches.

CRAZY CAKE

- 2 medium apples, peeled and chopped
- 1 egg
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup shortening
- three-fourths cup nuts
- 1 cup flour
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt

Place the two peeled and chopped apples in mixing bowl. Add the one egg, one cup sugar and one-fourth cup shortening and three-fourths cup nuts.

Sift the one cup flour, one teaspoon each cinnamon and soda and one-fourth teaspoon salt into the bowl. Mix about three minutes. Scrape into greased and lightly floured 9x9-inch pan. Bake in 350-degree oven 35 to 40 minutes. Cool and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

NOTE: Don't panic when you see how dry and lumpy it looks before baking, the heat of the oven works miracles.

St. Veronica Festival to Open Friday

The annual festival at St. Veronica's, 434 Alida Way, South San Francisco entitled "Yankee Doodle Daze" will open May 19, 20 and 21.

Dinner will be prepared by Chef Leno Bertocchini, who will prepare a lasagne dinner with wine, salad, garlic bread and dessert. St. Veronica's Teen Club will play a big part in the success of the festival this year and will serve dinner on Sunday, May 21, 4 to 8 p.m. They will also assist as clean up crew after the festival is over.

Festival time on Friday will be 7 to 10 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday, 1 to 10 p.m. Proceeds will benefit St. Veronica's parish.

Women Voters Set Candidate Night May 24

A Candidates' Night for the 27th Assembly District is slated for May 24.

Sponsored by the League of Women Voters of North San Mateo County, it will be held at the Coral Room of the Westlake Public Library, 275 Southgate Avenue, Daly City. The presentation will be illustrated by slides taken during the tour.

Republican candidates Edwin Anderson, Theodore Long, and Edward Morgan will present their platforms and answer questions at 7:30 p.m. Democratic candidates Ray Ferguson, Tony Governale, John Linn, Antonio Montoya, and Louis Papan will follow at 9 p.m.

Coffee will be served from 8:30 to 9 p.m. to give the public a chance to talk to all the candidates during that half hour, according to chairman Beverly Walker.

Westmoor Girl Wins 10-speeder

Westmoor High School freshman Janet Behlow, a member of the Kennel Club, took first place honors and won a ten-speed bike in an essay contest recently.

Janet wrote an essay on "Why a low-cost spay and neuter clinic would benefit the ecology of San Mateo County." Janet, Kennel Club treasurer, found out about the contest, sponsored by "Citizens for a low-cost spay and neuter clinic" at one of the club meetings.

Friends of Library Will Hear Talk on Russia

Dr. Harry B. Green will present for The Friends of the Daly City Library a program based on a trip through Russia at the Friends' annual meeting on May 25, at 8 p.m. in the Coral Room of the Westlake Public Library, 275 Southgate Avenue, Daly City. The presentation will be illustrated by slides taken during the tour.

Dr. Green, professor emeritus of San Francisco State College, holds degrees from the University of California at Berkeley, Columbia, and Stanford. He and Mrs. Green are long-time residents of Westlake.

The trip through Russia was sponsored by the Russian government and began in Moscow with nine participants who were all Americans. A woman Intourist representative went along as a guide. For three weeks the tour took the group through the cities of Kiev, Volgograd, Rostov and others and ended in Leningrad.

Following the Russian tour, Dr. Green and his wife Mildred, a former member of the English department at Jefferson High School, toured satellite countries on their own.

A short business meeting will precede the program, at which election of officers will be held.

Mrs. John Connolly is chairman of the evening, assisted by Mrs. F. Lincoln Walter as co-chairman.

Refreshments will be served after the program by Mmes. Al Teglia and Thomas Donohue. Mrs. Vinton Stratton, president, invites the public to attend.

Westmoor Class At Angel Island

Embarking on the first senior activity of the pre-graduation season, 20 Westmoor seniors and advisor Mrs. Doris Lindfors sailed aboard the Harbor Emperor to Angel Island in San Francisco Bay.

Hiking and exploring old buildings were among the highlights of the recent trip, as occasional stops for lunch and rest under a tree were a relief from the bright sunshine.

Due to tired legs and feet many hikers retreated to the mainland early while Mrs. Lindfors and more experienced hikers remained to complete the day before steaming back to the mainland.

Girl Scouts' Summer Camp Signups Start

Summer camps operated by the San Francisco Bay Girl Scout Council are accepting registrations from all girls, ages seven through seventeen, according to Miss Jane Cammann, Council Camp Administrator. Parents should call 444-2211, the camping office in Oakland, for details and application forms.

"There is some space left in nearly every camp," says Miss Cammann. "and a girl need not be a Girl Scout in order to attend our camps. We want to offer the opportunity to all Bay Area girls. The choice is wide, from Camp Bothin in Marin County to Camp Deer Lake in the High Sierra."

Camp Bothin, designed especially for a first camping experience for younger girls, offers seven days of pool swimming, beginning crafts, hiking, games, all in the outdoors. Campers sleep and eat indoors, however, and the camp is close to home. Camp Deer Lake accepts 6th-graders and older girls and offers, in addition to the usual camp activities, canoeing, beginning sailing, and backpacking. Deer Lake sessions are fourteen days long.

Swing Band Concert Set

The Serramonte High School Swing Band will be providing the music for a "40's & 50's Dance," on May 20 from 8 p.m.-midnight at 45 St. Francis Square in Daly City.

The proceeds will benefit the Serramonte High Music Department's trip to Disneyland.

For information on tickets call 756-0588 or 467-4122 after 3:00 p.m.

Acapulco Honeymoon For Bay Area Couple

Acapulco is the honeymoon destination of Russell Santucci and his bride, the former Janet Ann Agar who exchanged vows on Saturday at St. Cecilia's Church.

The newlyweds received felicitations after the service at the San Francisco Olympic Club. Following their honeymoon, they will return to make a home in San Mateo.

Janet is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Agar of Daly City. When she walked with her father to the altar she was dressed in a white organza gown. The Empire costume featured a high neck and long sheer sleeves and a tucked panel down the center detailed with daisy motifs of Venice lace. Similar motifs trimmed her skirt and attached train.

Joan Foppiano of Daly City served as the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Russell Jordan of San Mateo, and Susan Peters, Debbie Smith, Audrey Zweig and Mrs. Frank Schwartz, all of Daly City.

The attendants were dressed alike in chiffon, floral print gowns of pink, white and lavender shades.

Best man for his brother was Steve Santucci of Daly City. Both are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Santucci of San Francisco. Greg Agar of Millbrae, Janet's brother, seated guests with Phil Gatto, Bill Stewart and Steve Cannata, all of San Francisco, and Lee Felice of Oakland.

A graduate of Westmoor High School, the bride is now employed as a dental assistant. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henri Agar and Mrs. Ellen DeRose.

Riordan High School and the University of Santa Clara are the alma maters of the benedict. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Santucci and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thelen.

Comedy to Open at Westmoor

Tonight is "Opening Night" for the cast and crew of Westmoor High School production "You Can't Take It With You" at 8 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

The show will play again tomorrow night, the 18th and again on Saturday night.

Set in the '30's, the classic comedy has all the ingredients to still appeal to modern-day audiences including a mad Russian, a nutty musician, an athletic discus thrower and a ballerina, all residing in the same old Victorian house, with a plot centering on taxes, love, and revolution.

Westmoor students who will be appearing in the show are Paul Hodgkiss, Pamela Simons, Renny Wright, Colleen Murray, Rich Newton, Nancy Mikulin, Mike Nicholson, Dave Colcleaser, Julie Hart, Anthony deSalvo, Leonard Metts, Valerie Vance, Mitch Fox, Linda Geras, Bill Schuler, Pam Wildman, Jim Vance, Dave Taxier, Keith Ayoub, and Ron LaPedis.

Director Kenneth Brown states that tickets may be bought from any cast member or at the box office, and urges the public to take advantage of seeing this prize winning play that later was made into an Oscar winning movie.

Riot Class for D.C. Police

The Daly City police department was the scene of riot activities last week—but it was all part of the basic training for rookie police under the POST (Police Officers Standards & Training) program.

Thirty rookies from throughout the county, including ten deputy sheriff trainees from the San Francisco Sheriff's Office, are taking the exhaustive program under the experienced eye of Daly City police captain Dave Hansen.

Each rookie must undergo some 360 hours of departmental training in compliance with the POST schedule before he can receive necessary credits. Eight hours are devoted to riot and crowd control.

The POST program is underwritten by the state. Classroom study is also carried out at the College of San Mateo by experienced instructors in various fields.

The coordinator for the project is Theodore Rankin of CSM.

Brisbane Officer Beaten In Full-Scale Riot

A series of minor skirmishes by small groups of roving youth in the bayside city of Brisbane erupted into a full scale riot shortly before midnight on Friday in which a policeman and a demonstrator were injured and six persons arrested.

At its height the fracas involved between 40 and 50 persons. Many had been drinking at bars in the city's Visitacion-Mendocino area, police said.

The incident began as first one group and then another gathered outside bars on the pretense of staging an anti-Nixon Vietnam peace rally, according to Brisbane officer Bob Davis.

Policemen Davis and John Majka dispersed the youths as fast as they could form. Shortly after 11 p.m., however, both officers were confronted by a large group estimated at 50 youths.

Some members of the group began tossing bottles into the street and overturning trash cans.

Brisbane police called for outside riot aid and units from the California Highway Patrol, San Mateo County Sheriff's Office, San Bruno, Daly City and South San Francisco responded.

Before most of the backup force could arrive, officers Davis and Majka attempted to break up the gathering crowd. As Davis ordered the youths off the street he was jumped from the rear. Four persons pounced on the officer and began kicking and beating him as he lay on the ground.

Other officers rushed to his aid and managed to pull him away from the crowd and take him to Mary's Help Hospital for treatment of bruises, lacerations and possible internal injuries.

A Daly City policeman was struck on the head with an empty wine bottle, but was not injured.

During the battle police heard what sounded like a rifle shot. They later arrested Ralph David Ackley, 33, of Brisbane and charged him with assault with a deadly weapon and disturbing the peace.

A .32-caliber lever-action rifle was found in Ackley's apartment. However, police would not reveal details on the arrest or charges.

Some 25 law enforcement officers from throughout the county dispersed the group less than an hour after the riot broke out.

Arrested was Curtis Anthony Richards, 19. Richards was injured during the fight and taken to Choje Community Hospital for treatment. He was later released and booked into the county jail at Redwood City on charges of felony assault on a policeman, disturbing the peace and failure to disperse, police said.

Others arrested were John Lilly, 19, Daniel Hayes, 19 and two juveniles, whom police did not identify. All were from Brisbane and charged with failure to disperse and disturbing the peace.

2 Principals Appointed

Appointment of two new school principals was approved Monday night by the San Bruno Park School Board.

The trustees went to Toledo, Ohio, to select Donald H. Belleville, a 40-year-old elementary principal to head up Decima Allen School, succeeding retiring Louis Ray. They took one of their own administrators, however, Gus Xerogeas, 44, who attended local schools and spent most of his professional life with the San Bruno Park District, to succeed Harlan Still, retiring as principal of El Crystal School.

Belleville was selected as a top expert in the teaching of reading. He was assistant director of the reading center at the University of Toledo and a reading consultant to the Upward Bound program there. His wife Dorothy is also distinguished in the same field, having both been speakers at the International Reading Conference. They have one child, Kelly Jean, 7. They are both licensed pilots.

Gellert Park Funds Voted

A federal grant of $100,000 has been allocated to Daly City for improvements at the new 21 acre Gellert Park in the Serramonte section of the city.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) informed the city of the grant last week.

City manager David Rowe said the city will now match the federal funds with some $130,000 and work will start on improvements—which include landscaping, parking and sprinkler systems—this year.

Initially the funds would have to be expended by June 30, however an extension of six months is expected to be granted.

Much of the work to be done at the park will be put out to bid, according to the city.

Recently, Boy Scouts from the area planted hundreds of trees around the park.

Melford D. Battye, longtime member of the Daly City Personnel Commission, has resigned his post effective immediately Battye said the resignation was necessitated by the fact he had moved out of the city and now makes his residence in Millbrae. He thanked the city council "who continued my appointment to this office" over the many years.

Democratic Club
To Hear Talks
On Presidency

Tonight's meeting of The Daly City Democratic Club will be held in the M. Pauline Brown School in Daly City at 7:30 p.m.

Speakers will include representatives from both the McGovern and Humphrey San Mateo County organizations and a representative of the Ryan for Congress organization. Also scheduled to appear are the two candidates for the Superior Court, Judges Lanam and Becker. The public is invited.

Last month's meeting highlighted by the presentations made by Tom Greening and Sylvia Gregory on Propositions 9 and 18.

Reva Krips, president of the club surprised the membership by announcing her resignation. She indicated that she was leaving the area to move to Los Angeles where her husband has been transferred. South San Francisco attorney Joe Gruber was elected temporary president until the regularly held elections.

Tony Governale's candidacy for the Assembly seat in the State Legislature was unanimously endorsed after the membership heard from Governale representatives at the meeting, about the outstanding record of civic achievement Governale has in the community.

The Latin Celebration of Cinco de Mayo was recently held at Jeff High.

The Latin Heritage Club sponsored an assembly in the afternoon in the gym with such entertainment as folk dances and singing. The Latino Club also had a luncheon in the Home Economics Room for all faculty at a cost of $1.50. Saturday was the parade which started at OLPH and ended at Holy Angels.

THE ANNUAL SPRING Festival was held April 28 in the cafe with other activities outside. The festival started at 11:10 with food being sold by the Latin Heritage Club, Filipino Club, Class of '72, '73 and '74.

The International Club also sponsored a food booth but of a different kind. This was a sidewalk cafe, a French setting with all the trimmings. There were waitresses, tables, chairs, flowers and menus. The band had the "House of Insanity."

The Class of '75 held a game in which a person could win stuffed animals. The Class of '74 had a water balloon toss which went very well. They had various teachers as targets and one student paid $4 just on one teacher.

The Art club had a booth with which they displayed their wares of belts, leather articles and other artsy things. A freshman social studies class had a knic-knack corner, they sold hand-made jewelry, leather hairpieces, and beads.

THE CALIFORNIA SCHOLARSHIP Federation under the guidance of Mr. ... took a three-day trip to ... Lake in Pal ... the students took ... teacher with them. Mr. ... Meekins. These students went on nature hikes, boating and swimming even though the weather wasn't too good.

Even students from the Student Government went to a district-wide conference at Oceanside. The basic theme behind this was politics. There was a panel discussion which included such people as Sen. Arlen Specter, Assemblyman Ley J. Ryan, District and candidate for assemblyman Ed Morgan, and San Mateo County District Atty. Keith Sorenson.

THE BASKETBALL Team recently had their banquet at Coach Kelly's house in Millbrae.

The team along with the Pep Staff had a delicious steak dinner. Afterwards, people were given their awards. Each team member received a medal for being NPL champs. Individual awards went to Harry Norman, most improved; Gary Lindsey and Joe Randolph, most inspirational, and Ken Smith, most valuable player and outstanding senior. The Pep Staff also received a trophy that night; they won first place for cheerleaders at the Del Oro Tourney and a sportsmanship trophy at the Kendal Arnet Tourney.

SIX STUDENTS from the Italian Class along with teacher Mrs. Elda Van Note recently went to San Francisco State to participate in Italian Day. The six students, Lucy Abraham, Sue Casazza, Sue Chervellera, Ruth Gigli, Marco Lari and Larry Puccini, were treated to lunch and then saw various exhibits.

THE JOURNALISM staff was recently paid a visit to by Skyline Journalism instructor Sam Goldman. He spoke about careers in journalism and the outstanding program that Skyline offered for students pursuing such a career.

VICA (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America) flew to San Diego on May 4 to participate in the state-wide competition after winning first place in the regionals in San Jose several weeks ago. This time they did not come home with a first but they did place second which is something to be extremely proud of.

Spring Concert At FDR School

A spring concert will be given by the children of the Franklin D. Roosevelt elementary school on Wednesday, May 17 at 7:30 p.m.

The program will open with the flag ceremony presented by Mrs. Schnaars' Bluebird group.

Under direction of Paul Carpenter, the Glee Club will present a number of selections, including a medley of songs from "The Sound of Music." The orchestra will be directed by Mrs. Kem Martinez.

Westmoor Holds Human Relations Conference

Westmoor High School recently held its first Human Relations Conference which, hopefully, opened new channels of communication and understanding to students of all races.

Black history and heritage was shown in a series of songs and dances by Voices, Inc. from New York City. The road-show company began with an explanation of Black heritage, moved to slave history and then to the revolution and freedom.

The performance depicted Saturday night good times, Sunday religion and Monday reality which showed problems of prejudice and environment setbacks faced by blacks today.

Following this performance discussion groups, chaired by 14 students who previously attended the County Human Relations Conference, discussed racial problems and proposed suggestions such as changing the annual Spirit Week into a Human Relations Week.

The Chicano speakers were unavoidably detained so the students voted to have a discussion as a whole. This discussion was led by Carol Edwards, planning council chairman. Problems such as "how to belong" and "how to break into cliques, or what to do about them," were discussed.

Edison Uno, the Asian-American expert, was the first one to speak. Uno related his experiences at a Japanese relocation camp. He explained how on Dec. 8, 1941, he was an American citizen and on Dec. 8, 1941, he was a "dirty Jap."

Uno concluded with saying that ghettos and poverty are really concentration camps and should be fought against.

Kit Bricca spoke on his experiences working for United Farm Workers. Mr. Cruze

Mendoza was a migrant farmer as a child and is now also involved in the U.F.W. He explained the basic rights they're fighting for. However they are going to follow Caesar Chavez's method of non-violence. Mr. Mendoza used the riots in Los Angeles to illustrate why they are opposed to violence. Part of Mr. Bricca's speech was devoted to explaining the lettuce boycotts. The Conference adjourned at 5 p.m. as leftover hash in cupcake cups.

Teachers at Westmoor are following up this idea by showing a series of four movies titled "Confrontations." Situations involving racial prejudices and problems are shown, then students are invited to give their opinions on how the situations should be handled.

The program was considered a success, although only 250 of the 300 expected students attended the conference.

For a meal in a hurry, freeze When ready for use, peel off the paper wrapping and pop them into a baking dish and into the oven, along with potatoes and vegetables.

Scout-O-Rama in S.M.

San Mateo County's "biggest show of the year" — the 1972 Scout-O-Rama — will be held this weekend, at the San Mateo County Fairgrounds.

Some 160 packs, troops and posts, with over 10,000 members, will be taking part in the show this year, carrying out the theme "Scouting Today's More Than You Think."

Boys from San Bruno, Pacifica, South San Francisco, Millbrae and Daly City have been combing the area selling tickets for the event.

Featured will be animal exhibits from Marine World-

Africa USA, and trampoline demonstrations by Clyde De vine's youth group.

Every Scout group will be presenting some type of demonstration showing what their skills are. They will include woodsmanship, Indian crafts and engineering projects, representing some of the accomplishments for which boys have won achievement medals during the year.

Refreshments will include barbecue dinner as well as hot dogs, sweets, and drinks.

Hours Friday will be 6-11 p.m.; on Saturday, noon to 9:30 p.m.

Political Roundup

The Daly City Democratic Club has unanimously endorsed Councilman Tony Governale for the Twenty-seventh Assembly District seat.

Governale has been a hard-working Democrat in San Mateo County for more than 12 years. The San Bruno councilman has been president of three Democratic clubs and has been a leader in many campaigns, including those of Robert Kennedy in 1968, former Governor "Pat" Brown, Jess Unruh and State Senator Arlen Gregorio.

Bill Schumacher, an active club member and recent city council candidate, said of this endorsement:

"One of Governale's opponents is from Daly City. Our Democratic Club felt that we could not support a man who only recently became a Democrat to run in this race."

"We like Governale's concern for the problems of education and for the property taxpayer in the north county, and we know him to be a man we can work with and who will listen to the people," Schumacher said.

Republican Assembly candidate and San Bruno attorney Ted Long has endorsed Assembly Bills 1085, 1087 and 1088 which provide for greater parental responsibility in the case of vandals causing damage to public schools. The bills, which are part of a package sponsored by Attorney General Evelle Younger, include an extensive community prevention program with its goal of informing the public, parent and child alike, as to the damage caused by vandals and establishes rewards for persons giving information leading to the apprehension of persons causing extensive damage. In addition, it increases the parental liability for apprehended vandals from the current $1,000 to $10,000.

"It is my feeling that the parent must be made responsible for these acts of their children when they cause serious and malicious damage to our public schools, or we will not install a respect for the law and the property of others," Long said.

"If the parent can escape liability, what sort of message does that project to the child? Under Assembly Bill 1088, the parental responsibility is of such a substantial nature that I am sure parents will begin to accept greater responsibility in these areas."

Long's comments come on the heels of over $1300 worth of damage to Burlingame High School, and the proposals are supported by school officials as well as the Attorney General's office.

McRobert Stewart, chairman of Ed Morgan's Twenty-seventh Assembly District campaign, announced the appointment of Mayor Frank Mammini as chairman in South San Francisco.

Mayor Mammini has long participated in the affairs of his community.

The mayor recently said of Ed Morgan, "The Twenty-seventh Assembly District must have the leadership of such a man. He has been superb as superintendent of the Jefferson Union High School District and has served his community proudly as a member of the Mental Health Commission, Human Relations Commission, Human Resources Commission, etc. I am honored to have been asked to serve in Ed Morgan's election campaign."

A PLEA FOR Democratic unity and a promise to conduct a clean, informative campaign pan, Democratic candidate for the Twenty-seventh Assembly District in the June primary.

Papan said regardless of the outcome of the primary he would support the winner in the general election.

In a letter recently sent to his four Democratic opponents, the Daly City councilman asked that a clean campaign be conducted during these final weeks was made today by Louis J. Papan of the primary.

Papan, a former Federal Bureau of Investigation agent and now an insurance and property broker, said none of his opponents had, as yet, responded to his suggestions, however he was optimistic that "they will see that the voters are fed up with the kind of campaigning that gives them inflammation instead of information."

He pointed to other state campaigns that had deteriorated to personal attacks, smear tactics and unsupported intimations and pledged "not to permit any of these unacceptable tactics on my behalf."

Such tactics can only split the Democratic Party and cause its ultimate defeat in the general elections, Papan said.

EDWIN S. ANDERSEN, Republican candidate for the Twenty-seventh Assembly District, says that he is vitally concerned with major crimes being committed in the Bay Area.

Reported crimes of rape in San Mateo County have increased 55 per cent in the last year, and this is a conservative figure, he says, for most rape victims do not file complaints because of personal embarrassment and lack of prosecution by our law enforcement officials.

Child molesting is another serious sex offense that either goes undetected, or the offender is allowed to return to the streets with little more than psychiatric admonishment, if he is even arrested, Anderson claims.

JOHN H. LINN, Democratic candidate for nomination to the State Assembly, has announced the appointment of Floyd Elkins, chairman of the Academic Senate at Skyline College, as his campaign chairman for the northern region of the Twenty-seventh Assembly District.

Elkins, who was northern Mateo Community College tax county chairman for the San override election last year and a resident of Pacifica, said he supported Linn "because of his proven leadership in education and his forthright stand on the issues facing San Mateo County."

Elkins continued, "I also support John Linn's position that local government must be allowed to handle local affairs without the interference of larger governmental units."

WILLIAM H. "BILL" ROYER, candidate for county supervisor at the June primary election, announced that he will devote full time to the job, if elected.

Royer, 51, former mayor, vice mayor, councilman and planning commissioner of Redwood City for 18 years and a member of the original San Mateo County Regional Planning Commission, said that the county, with more than 500,000 population, requires a man who can devote full time to the job to get the maximum results for the people.

APPOINTMENT OF Frank B. Ingersoll Jr., Burlingame attorney, as San Mateo County finance chairman for the election of William H. "Bill" Royer as county supervisor was announced today.

Royer, who is campaigning for supervisor on the basis that he is the only candidate who will serve on the board as a full-time supervisor, is relinquishing his present business in order to devote his entire attention to the job.

Royer, for 18 years mayor, city councilman and planning commissioner of Redwood City, has a record of civic accomplishments throughout San Mateo County.

Charles Chase of Belmont, Republican candidate for Congress in the 11th District, has announced the appointment of James O. Miller as his campaign manager.

Miller is a San Mateo attorney and a partner in the law firm of Miller and Osborne.

Miller joins the Chase team after several years of activity in Republican affairs and campaigns.

Assembly candidate Ted Long, acknowledging that one of the major areas of public concern in Northern San Mateo County at this time is the construction of Interstate 380, connecting Interstate 280 with the coast, says that statistically speaking, he need for the Interstate 380 extension is not overwhelmingly shown.

"The number of users, according to the Division of Highways figures, is at a minimum, and it would appear that a reasonable alternative, such as a four-lane addition of Sharp Park Road, would more than adequately handle any traffic for the foreseeable future," Long says.

He says that Crestmoor Canyon is significant because of its "historic value as a natural preserve and of historical fossil mounds and of the high desirability of its hiking trails and other natural areas."

The ultimate question of expansion of the transportation corridors into the coastside areas must rest, he says, on two major premises that: "Are you willing to sacrifice the quality of the open space as represented by Crestmoor Canyon, and do you wish to encourage future development and expansion of the coastside into large suburban communities?"

"If the answer to either one or both of those is positive, then the person would be a proponent of the construction of the freeway."

"If, on the other hand, your attitude is as mine, that growth must be more orderly and must be more regulated if we are to preserve any natural resources and that preservation of Crestmoor Canyon must be of the highest priority, there are alternatives that are available for providing routes that are more than sufficient to handle the current traffic capacity."

The land of Crestmoor Canyon is currently owned by the State of California.

Performances At Schools

If you missed the band concert at Jefferson High School, resolve here and now to join the people who will attend the performances scheduled by the local high schools for the rest of the season.

Westmoor High School will present the play, "You Can't Take It With You," on May 17, 18 and 19. This is one of America's most famous comedies. When it was on Broadway it won a Pulitzer Prize; then it became a great movie. In the hands of Mr. Brown and his students will be well done.

On May 25 and 26, and again on June 2 and 3, Serramonte High School will repeat "The Apple Tree," by Jerry Bock and Sheldon Harnick. This drama was on Broadway in 1968 and later toured 60 cities. A young lady who saw Serramonte's last performance of "The Apple Tree" said, "I didn't think they could do it, but I was surprised. It was good." That endorsement should recommend the performance to all Daly City people.

A vocal concert in Room 507 of Jefferson High School promises to be a program that is different from the run of the mill, yet in keeping with Jefferson's tradition of commendable performances.

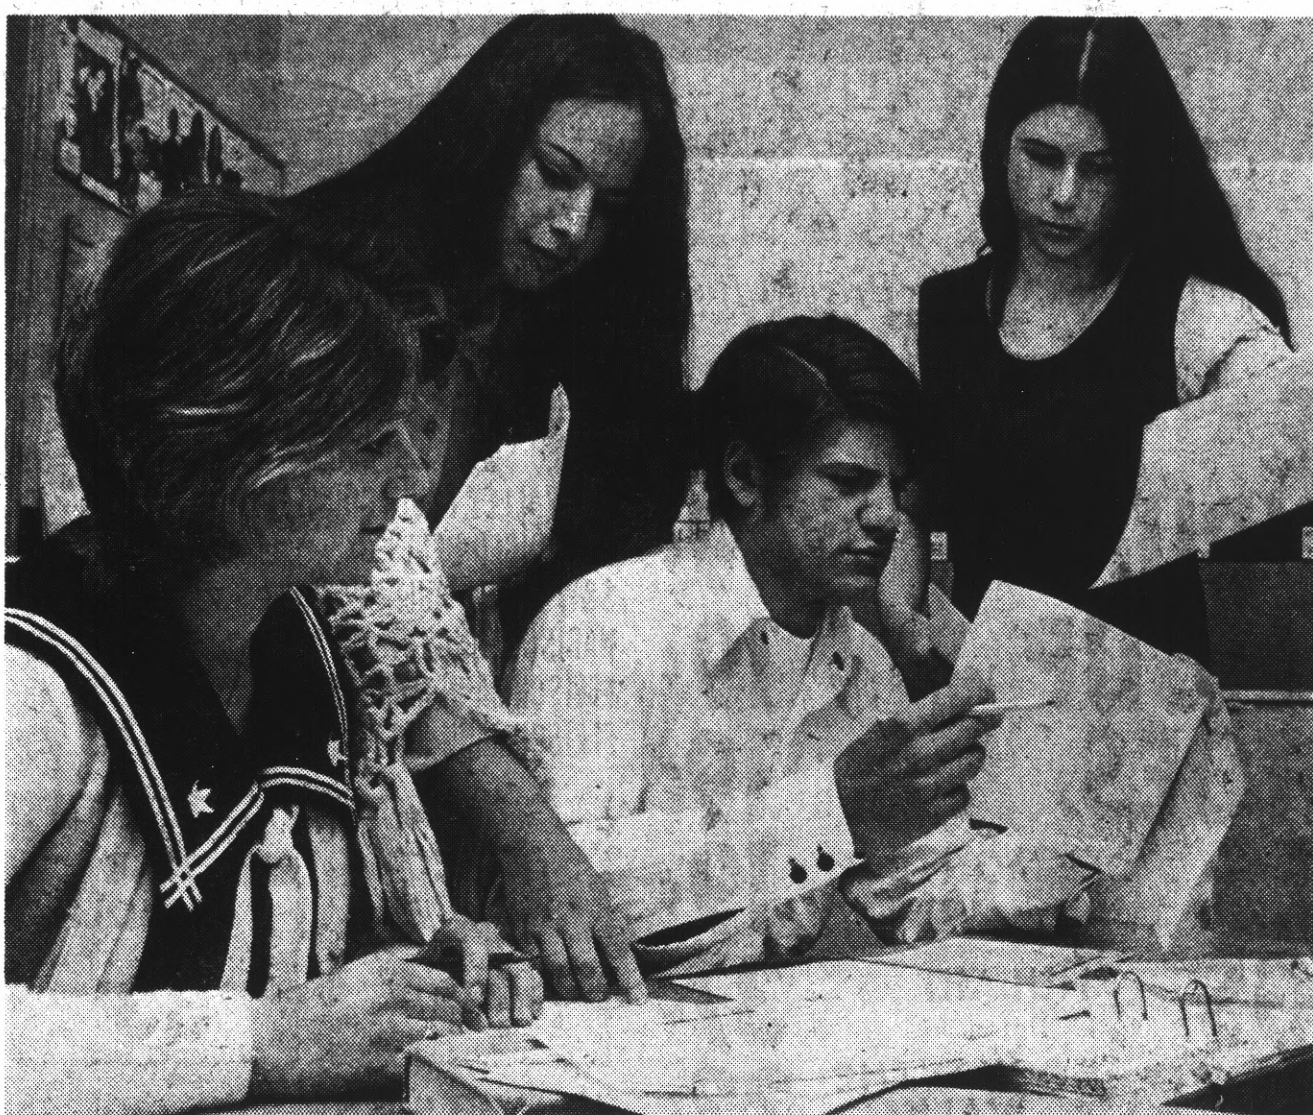

Serramonte High School has a gymnastics show scheduled for May 26 at 7 p.m. It, too, will present something to Daly City that is unique.

Impressive graduation ceremonies are planned for each school in the Jefferson High School District as follows: Serramonte, Jefferson, Westmoor and Ocean-ia High Schools on June 15 and Terra Nova High School on June 16.

During the weeks before graduation each high school will be filled with wonderful events. Senior picnics are planned for each school.

Jefferson will use May 30 as a Senior Dress Up Day. On June 10, the Serramonte High School Band will travel to Disneyland. Senior receptions are scheduled at Westmoor High School on June 1 and at Serramonte on June 15. Parents are invited to attend the receptions.

Such planning is mentioned in George Herbert Palmer's statement, "That's what education means — to be able to do what you've never done before."

Capuchino High Pupils

Our Viewpoint

'No' on County Proposition A

San Mateo County Proposition A on the June 6 election ballot, titled as a "San Mateo County Charter Amendment," is actually several amendments to the charter including the outright repeal of some sections, substantial deletions in others, and changes in some existing provisions.

In entirety, the amendments are designed to make substantial alterations in duties, procedures and powers of the county's civil service structure. Several of the amendments have merit but since Proposition A presents all the amendments as a package, the good amendments cannot be enacted without accepting those to which we object. Accordingly, we must recommend a 'No' vote on Proposition A.

The present charter provisions relative to the civil service commission were adopted at a time when it was not customary for public employees to negotiate labor contracts. In view of this the charter presently contains standards for determining salaries and wages of most county employees by the Board of Supervisors on the recommendation of the civil service commission. These standards generally require the Board of Supervisors to provide for salaries and wages being paid for comparable services, in the municipalities of the county and public jurisdictions in and around San Francisco Bay Area.

Those who favor Proposition A argue that since counties are now required by state law to negotiate salaries and other employee benefits with unions representing county employees, the Board of Supervisors should have complete and absolute authority to negotiate with labor unions representing county employees.

Like constitutional revision propositions uniformly accepted by the voters on previous state ballots, the proposed changes are a part of the on-going work of the Constitution Revision Commission which has now been at work at Stanford for a dozen years on the titanic task of making needed revisions. Before the work of this commission was itself mandated by the voters the California State Constitution was the fourth longest such document in the world and was filled with inappropriate and archaic provisions.

As in the case of predecessor propositions from the Commission, it is completely non-partisan. It passed both houses of the Legislature without a single dissenting vote. It is supported by the League of Women Voters and the Lawmaking Procedures Section of the Commonwealth Club has recommended its passage by a unanimous vote.

The Post adds its voice in recommendation for a "Yes" vote on Proposition 10.

will have to foot the bill after the Board of Supervisors conclude their negotiations.

The present charter grants the civil service commission certain powers, particularly in the area of fringe benefits, which make it necessary for the Board of Supervisors and the civil service commission to meet and come to agreement in developing the county's position in labor negotiations. This is a system of checks and balances which may make it more difficult for the supervisors to readily yield to employee demands, but we feel that in the last analysis it is in the interest of the voters and the taxpayers to have the benefit of the joint thinking of the civil service commission and the Board of Supervisors in arriving at a final agreement with the county employees on wages, salaries and benefits.

Proposition A would be strengthening the power of the Board of Supervisors and would at the same time weaken and dilute the power and authority of the civil service commission to the point where the civil service commission would no longer be an effective policy making body in determining employee benefits or in recommending wages.

It should also be noted that Proposition A would delete from the charter the present provision that preference of employment in county service shall be given to residents of San Mateo County. This provision does not require employment of San Mateo County residents in all cases but does quite wisely, we believe, give preference in county employment to San Mateo County residents particularly in view of the fact that they are paying the taxes which are assessed to keep our county government in operation.

Our position, therefore, on Proposition A is that it should be rejected because it gives an undue advantage to the county employees' unions. They should not have it both ways. Either they should be compensated on the basis of standards as presently provided or the standards should be deleted and they should be given full and unlimited bargaining rights. Furthermore, the retention of a system of checks and balances whereby the civil service commission would still continue to retain a voice in determining employee benefits is, as we view it, beneficial to the voters and taxpayers. Finally, we suggest that it is unwise to delete from the charter, as provided by Proposition A, the present preference for county employment which is extended to residents of San Mateo County.

Frank LaPierre

Letter of Support

MAIL BAG — "Dear Mr. LaPierre, regarding 'The Temptation Often Grows,' thank you ever so much. My husband and I sure are glad there are people like you around who are willing to come out with the facts for the paying public. We sure are tired of paying through the nose for our so-called public spirited people... where does it all stop?" — Dale and Sue Edwards.

(It will end when people like yourselves continue to take an active interest in what's really happening. Take in a few meetings and let the officials know when they are doing a good job and when they're not! Also let us know...)

ON THE SUBJECT of warrants, vouchers and school district expense accounts: Those are public records. Anyone is entitled to look 'em over. Anyone, that is, willing to suffer a brief runaround from officialdom. It's interesting where a goodly portion of our tax monies are going. You don't need a direct or indirect pipeline into the district office, or city hall, to look them over. If those officials who have placed themselves on a higher level than mere humans, try to give you the "ask us in writing" dodge, give them the old "show that rule to me in writing" counter.

REMEMBER THIS: VOX POPULI, VOX DEI (the voice of the people (is) the voice of God).

MIND BOGLER OF MINE — Why a North County throwaway now is knocking William Schumacher for decisions he made while a Jefferson Elementary School District trustee after its staunch support of him as a Daly City council candidate for two years' running (???). Funny how people in office are curried by some folks and then dropped like a hot potato when they leave those posts. Ah, me. Such is life. But we do have to give credit to those who keep right in their defending their friends. We like to call it, "fighting for love and money." We don't explain 'em, we just utter 'em.

LET'S SET the record straight (again) — these are recorded facts. All one has to do is call any of the following to get them, re: the reported trip to glittering Las Vegas in March by members of the JESD. Deputy District Attorney Keith Breon, JESD Superintendent Frank L. Greenwood, JESD trustee Mrs. Beverly Forrester. All three went to the conference, headquartered at the Sands Hotel which concerned bargaining and binding arbitration.

The meeting was put on by Cornell University and dealt with matters which could be related to the recent teachers' strike in the district. Seems someone is trying to put us on by hinting only D.A. Breon and Mrs. Forrester attended. Shame on them. (Not the trio who went to Las Vegas, but the one sparking the rumor.)

HERE'S SOME GOOD NEWS from a school district — the high school. The Greater Daly City Chamber of Commerce is holding its 14th annual Awards to Outstanding Students Thursday at the Skyliner Restaurant. We've attended many of these award nights over the years and are amazed (actually we shouldn't be, it's just our limited scholastic ability rebelling) at the truly great efforts made by these young Americans. We won't be there this year, but we can safely say that this group will be every bit as great as in previous years. We wish them the very best of the future, which is theirs. Officials will say a lot of glowing things at the dinner and anything we try to write will be superfluous, I'm sure. Nice going!

SAY IT AGAIN, SAM — Overheard on KNBR's 11 a.m. newscast last Saturday was this interesting blurb: seems one of our states has a new law that allows any woman to have an abortion at any time within the first 24 months of pregnancy. Is it possible some people talk worse than I write?

WE FINALLY HAD A chance to take in a swell affair up Serramonte way — the Serramonte Miss and Jr. Miss Beauty Pageant — and we missed it. Unforgiving Al Kane has already let it be known he ain't about to accept our humble apologies, especially after we talked him out of the pageant's first two tickets!

DALY CITY WILL BE losing a helluva guy when Mel Battye steps off the city's Personnel Commission. Whatever he says in his letter of resignation we can't help but think it is the end result of a verbal clash he had with City Manager David Rowe last month during a commission hearing concerning Mrs. Sylvia Friedman.

Battye has been hailed as the "father of the city's civil service system" and similar high praise. At his age the fight has gone out of him, we suppose, or he would have stayed in there fighting. We can recall several clashes with the old battler where we came out second best. But we'd never admit that to him. And now he wants off the commission he was instrumental in forming into a hard-hitting body that won respect from the city's employees. Why, we really want to know?

THAT DRATTED RINGING in my ears — Another cop bites the dust come noon May 27, as D.C. officer Terry Alfred Hanebeck (a true-to-life police hero) and his Vicki (that would be Miss Vicki D. Vittori) exchange vows at the Church of the Epiphany in San Francisco.

GEORGE HOPMAN'S RETIREMENT dinner is on for June 2 at the new Jade Dragon Restaurant in Daly City. We took a peek between the walls of our 20-year-old Doelger Home the other day and lo and behold there was George's name as chief building inspector for Daly City. We guess he's been on the job since man invented the shelter and moved out of his cave.

We'll miss George. He's so tough on house inspections, according to our sources, that he doesn't just reject your application, he actually gives you a good stiff kick in your building permit. Dave Macabee has the demanding job of finding George a gift. May we suggest a pair of rose colored spectacles. That way, George can spend the rest of his life looking at all the good things in the world, instead of structures full of code violations.

THE FIRST ANNUAL Dini Lagomarsino Golf Tournament, help up at Cypress Hills last week, was a great success. An overflow field of duffers were there, including San Francisco Police Chief Don Scott, assistant C.O.P. Charlie Barca; Broadmoor C.O.P. Ray Savage and some of the fellows from Daly City's finest. It was a great affair for a great guy. P.S., last Saturday was the first anniversary of Dini's death.

FRED GARBINI IS COLMA's Police Commissioner. Garbini, a former Colma councilman, was elected to the council ousting Glenn Duncan in last April's elections. Will the new Commissioner take a close look at the city's entire full-time police force? Will there be any shakeup in the ranks? Listen in again next month, or whenever. If there is, you'll read it in this newspaper first — bet on it!

Free Speech Threat From Mob Violence

Last Friday I attended a meeting of the Commonwealth Club in the ballroom of San Francisco's St. Francis Hotel. The occasion was unique — the Governors of America's two largest states were appearing together before one thousand club members and friends.

Reagan and Rockefeller, as we should remember, have been to the wars. Rockefeller has been the representative of Republican liberalism, and Reagan the banner carrier of conservatism. Their joint appearance in support of President Richard Nixon formed at once a display of party unity and of mutual friendliness and respect.

Tolerance, unfortunately, stopped at the hotel doors. Outside a crowd had been gathering since late morning, and as time passed that crowd caught its own life and delivered its own message. The message had nothing to do with tolerance.

The format of the Commonwealth Club provides for written questions that are addressed to the speaker by the Club President. On this day, Justice Murray Draper read a tongue in cheek question that someone in the audience had submitted for the speakers to answer. It asked what they thought of the establishment of a Department of Deportation for those who exercised interperate dissent.

Both speakers acknowledged the importance of free speech and of the necessity of respecting differing expressions of opinion. Neither knew what was at that moment going on in the square and on the streets in front of the hotel.

For by that time the crowd (or rather a part of the crowd) had metamorphosed into a mob. No longer contented within the confines of traditional behavior, some of the people in the street resorted to physical violence. Rocks were hurled, pedestrians threatened, windows broken and a police motorbike was destroyed by fire. The mob was not satisfied with noisy and well publicized dissent — it resorted to acts of force and fear.

What those participating thought their violent acts did for the cause of peace is difficult to surmise. What those acts (and countless others like them) have done and threaten to do to a governmental system that is structured to accommodate maximum difference, debate and dissent is something else. History, a long and dreary chronicle of repression, tells us that our tolerant society is the exception and not the norm. It warns us that violence and liberty are not comfortable companions and have never lived side by side for appreciable periods of time.

In response to questioning, the Governors rationally reconciled the need for dissent with the limits of freedom. More artfully stated, the question concerning deportation inquired as to what a free society can do about those who, in the name of liberty and freedom seek to deny that liberty and freedom to others.

The answer is plain so far as traditional expressions of opinion are concerned. The written, spoken and shouted word, as well as the right of peaceful demonstration must remain inviolate. Any other decision would instantly threaten the rights of all, and deprive society of a useful means of self education. The more distasteful (to some, even a majority) a cause might be, the more important it is that its supporters be allowed the fullest opportunity to explain, evangelize, and argue.

But free speech has nothing to do with trashing, battery, arson or any of the sad repertoire of violence. These things are not free speech and do not add to its expression. They are intolerable if we are to keep alive the rights of the very same people whose wanton acts threaten their own liberty.

'Yes' on Proposition 10 Urged

Proposition 10 on the June state ballot is a legislative constitutional amendment for a partial revision of the California State Constitution. The revisions covered are intended to clarify the Constitution by renumbering some provisions and deleting others which are considered to be unnecessary or obsolete. It eliminates more than 1,500 words from the over-bulky and over-lengthy, much amended instrument of state government.

It has been called, basically a "housekeeping" measure which makes no substantive changes, places the constitutional provisions in more logical order, and contains no new or revised provisions.

The deleted provisions would be removed because they no longer have any practical necessity or purpose, either since the Legislature already has power to deal with the subject, or because the provisions are duplicated in existing statutes, in the Federal Constitution, or elsewhere in the California Constitution.

Like constitutional revision propositions uniformly accepted by the voters on previous state ballots, the proposed changes are a part of the on-going work of the Constitution Revision Commission which has now been at work at Stanford for a dozen years on the titanic task of making needed revisions. Before the work of this commission was itself mandated by the voters the California State Constitution was the fourth longest such document in the world and was filled with inappropriate and archaic provisions.

As in the case of predecessor propositions from the Commission, it is completely non-partisan. It passed both houses of the Legislature without a single dissenting vote. It is supported by the League of Women Voters and the Lawmaking Procedures Section of the Commonwealth Club has recommended its passage by a unanimous vote.

The Post adds its voice in recommendation for a "Yes" vote on Proposition 10.

Grass Burns On Mt. Bruno

The biggest fire of the season on San Bruno Mountain was reported at 6:12 p.m. Monday when a half-acre of grass burned near the intersection of Guadalupe Canyon Parkway and Radio Road.

State Division of Forestry firemen and two trucks were at the scene until midnight and were scheduled to return today to investigate the cause. Two smaller fires have been reported on the mountain in the last month and a half.

Veteran Officer Retires After 42 Years

AUGIE TERRAGNO is a policeman's policeman. Seated at his desk, center, he has been an efficient administrator. And in his earlier days with the department, before many of the present force were born, Assistant Chief Terragno was for nearly 20 years a motorcycle officer. He poses at left with his bike, shown in a side view at right. A retirement dinner honoring his 42 years of service will be held Thursday night at the South San Francisco Elks Club.

Crowley went on to add that he appreciated "your kind attitude at the time and hope you will accept this apology and that no ill feelings will result."

Certainly none did. As fellow officer Ron Sullivan said, "Augie may get uptight once in awhile in the station, but when he steps out to meet the public, he's all smiles."

That letter is a duplicate of many (with variations in wording, but saying the same thing) he was to receive through the years.

He believes in the closer personal contact, and used to ("years ago before cars put us out of reach of the public") stand at the intersection of Grand and Maple Avenues and exchange greetings on a first name basis with passersby.

"We're too far apart (police and the public). Something's got to be done to get us back together again. That's why I believe in the foot patrolman. You can't get away from it. The day is coming when the foot patrolman will come back," he says.

In July of 1930 Augie was hired on as the sixth member of a growing police force, and was assigned as a full-time traffic officer. He rode a motorcycle for approximately 18 years.

Asked why he wanted to be a policeman, and especially a motorcycle officer, he simply shrugged his shoulders and said, "I just told this friend (Silvio Neri) that I'd like to join the police department. We went to his office and typed out an application. I guess you could call it a fluke."

In 1929, he tied himself up to the other love in his life. She was Miss Hazel H. Martinelli, who was born and raised in San Bruno, and has been Augie's wife and companion for the past 43 years.

When he was hired on to the force, Augie had never been on a motorcycle. "I learned the hard way. But I learned fast," he said.

A ride on the bike almost cost Terragno his life back in 1947. It was the day before he was to go on vacation and he spotted a car speeding along Old Bayshore while he was chatting with some friends. Augie was urged to let the guy go. Since it was only a day away from vacation why should he waste his time chasing cars?

His expected response was "I'd better get this guy before he kills himself or hurts somebody."

The somebody was Augie. He caught up to the speeder. But instead of pulling over to the right side of the road as he should have, he pulled to the left and forced Augie into the path of an oncoming car.

"I was fortunate," says Terragno. "I didn't break any bones. An ambulance driver pushed my eye back in its socket. You know, I never did find out who that was so I could thank him."

Augie spent a month in a hospital with a severe concussion.

One of the many cards and letters Augie received after that accident was from B. M. Doolin, then manager and chief engineer of Mills Field, now San Francisco International Airport.

"Things like that always happen to a good guy who is trying to do a conscientious job," said Doolin's note.

Back when Terragno first went on the force, he started at $125 a month, which was cut to $75 during the depression. "But then I had more money in my pocket than I do now," he says.

The police department in those days occupied three rooms at the present city hall. These rooms are presently used by the city attorney's office and the planning department.

Although a radio receiver was installed on Augie's bike, in the early 1930's, the two-way system wasn't installed until 1949. "You had to depend on the public to go to the police department with a message," recalls Augie.

Mrs. Elizabeth Emerson, (known in those days as Elizabeth Ottenfield), the city's tax collector and twice interim city clerk, recalls when Augie first came on the department.

"He was a rather dapper young fellow. At least to me he seemed very young," she recalls, herself 10 years Augie's senior. "I remember they used to jokingly call him the boy scout because he was always doing little things for people."

"He shined just like brass. He and his motorcycle both," said "He's always been honest, courteous and proud of being a police officer and serving the people of South San Francisco," said another friend, Dick Minucciani, who also will be the master of ceremonies at Augie's retirement dinner.

"There never was a day when he wasn't neat and clean," says Minucciani. "It's just like he stepped out of a magazine."

What does Augie say about this?

"It's just as easy to keep clean as to keep dirty. Out in the public, I maintain you ought to look sharp," he says.

Looking sharp and being sharp are only two of his talents. Another is getting work done. A letter from resident Donald Meginness illustrates the point.

"He did not pass the buck, pass this (problem with traffic) off as something that would be looked into soon, (or) make unnecessary excuses."

"He did take immediate personal action, visit the site of the trouble, take time out to explain to me what he was going to do, (and then) get the job done that very day."

The South San Francisco Police Association is especially proud of Augie and applauded him as "a progressive and innovative policeman, whose interest in the patrolman's needs are evidenced in the high quality of equipment used."

The statement in a 1971 letter is a reference to Augie's work to institute propane-powered vehicles for the department as well as numerous other pieces of improved police equipment he fought for.

The list if long. From lifesaving efforts (in 1933) with fellow officer and long-time friend Vincent Bianchini, when they rescued five men adrift offshore of Swift's plant in an uncontrollable sailboat, to active involvement in helping to create the city's official seal.

Augie's concern for his fellow man wasn't reserved only for his on-duty hours. He got thoroughly involved with Little League, especially when his grandsons were playing, and various other youth activities.

Moving up through the ranks as a sergeant, captain and then assistant chief, Terragno reflects that "Maybe I was better off" not attaining that elusive status of chief of police.

The title of assistant chief will be retired along with its holder. It was a special recognition given Augie. Shortly after it was made official, City Manager Gale Dreisbach noted in a memo to Augie, that "the city did not forget your 42 years of effort."

That's true.

There's no denying Augie is accorded high ranking in the hearts of many South San Franciscans.

Tanforan's Historical Significance

Historical significance of Tanforan Park is rich in the annals of California.

In January, 1911, another historic air flight originated from Tanforan. Eugene Ely flew his Curtiss bi-plane from the race track to the deck of the U.S.S. Pennsylvania, anchored at the Golden Gate. This was the first recorded

H. J. MADIGAN... Penney's manager

H.J. Madigan Manager of New Penney's

H. J. Madigan, formerly manager of the J. C. Penney store in Modesto, the manager of the new Penney's opening today in Tanforan Park Shopping Center, San Bruno.

The Penney Company, whose managers and other personnel share in company profits, has a long-standing policy of promotion from within.

Madigan is a 25-year veteran with the company. He joined Penney's as a management trainee at the store in Monrovia, Calif., in 1947 and became a department manager there.

In 1948, he was chosen assistant manager of the Penney store in El Monte. He became a division manager in the Long Beach Penney store in 1950 and, four years later, was appointed assistant manager of the company's Bellflower store.

In 1956, Madigan became sales and merchandise manager for the Los Angeles metro-group stores and, in 1958, was promoted to merchandise manager at Penney's ten-state regional headquarters in San Francisco.

In 1961, he was selected sales and merchandise manager of the Mountain Regional headquarters in Denver. He was appointed manager of the Modesto Penney store in 1970.

A native of Monrovia, he studied business administration at Citrus Junior College prior to a four-year tour of duty as an infantry captain in the U.S. Army in World War II. Madigan and his wife, Marguerite, have two daughters, Kathy, 19, a student at Chico State College, and Sandi, 16, who attends Burlingame High School.

Tanforan's Historical Significance

landing of a fixed wing airplane on a ship.

World War I marked another change for Tanforan, the artillery regiment of the California Grizzlies took the park over for a training center.

A law against gambling on horse races finally closed the old track, but, in the 1930s a new pari-mutuel system of betting became law and Tanforan was again off and running.

World War II saw a new scene at Tanforan, one which many Americans will not forget. The track became an evacuation center for Japanese in the San Francisco Bay Area. The post-war prosperity reopened the track and it flourished as never before.

On July 1, 1964, the grandstands and clubhouse were destroyed by a fire that could be seen from all over the Bay Area. At this time there was a golf course built in the infield and the stands were earmarked for a slower type of devastation. Truly, Tanforan Park is a name that was and is synonymous with California history.

ANOTHER CHAPTER in the history of Tanforan began with the grand opening in the multimillion-dollar Tanforan Park Shopping Center. The popular racetrack opened in 1923 with ceremonies attended by America's sweetheart, Mary Pickford.

WAYNE MARTIN and Emilio Castanon, inside stock men, assist A. Van Poole, home entertainment department sales manager, move a TV set into place in the new J. C. Penney store which opens Wednesday, May 17, in Tanforan Shopping Center in San Bruno.

Tanfo Outlets Easy to Shop

Tanforan's 80-plus stores are among the easiest to shop in in the Bay Area.

Store hours are such that almost everyone can find a time that suits them. Monday through Friday the merchants are open from 9:30 in the morning until 9:15 in the evening. Saturdays the entire center is open from 9:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m., and on Sundays the hours are from noon to 5 p.m.

Penney's Hours Are Announced

Penney's new store at Tanforan Park shopping center will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 9:15 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Saturdays. Retail sales of tires, batteries and accessories will be offered on Sundays from noon to 5 p.m.

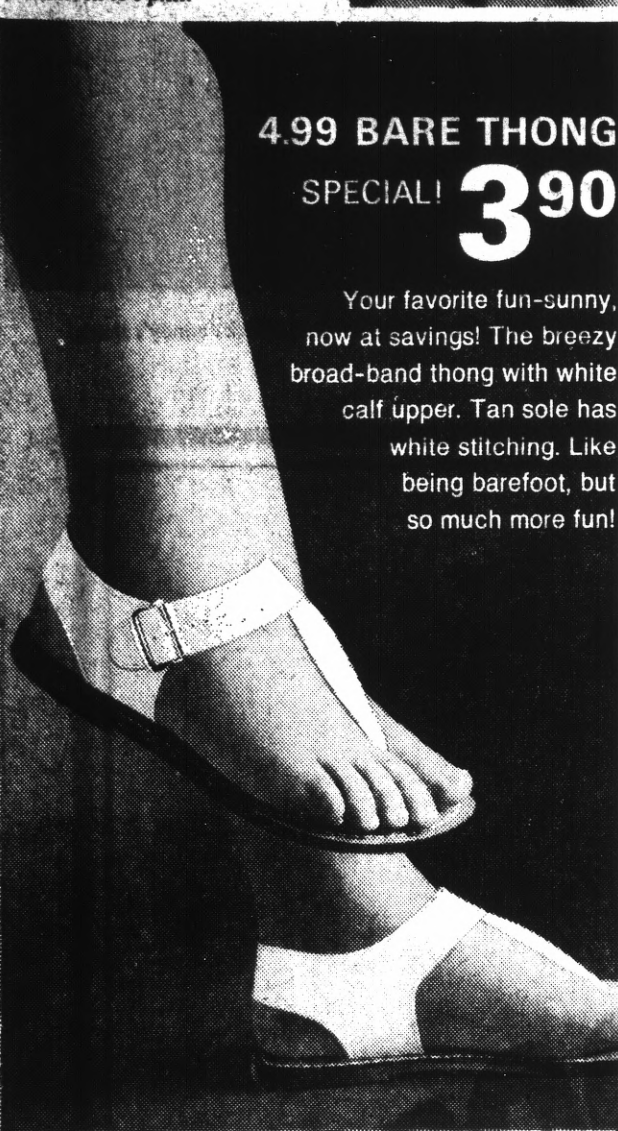

IN OCTOBER OF 1970, Sears Roebuck opened the first store at Tanforan. Since that time over 60 more merchants have joined Sears including the new J. C. Penney store. By November of this year the number will stand at 90 merchants and the center will have its third major department store. Even now workmen are rushing to finish the exterior of the huge Emporium building.

CLUSTERS of round and baguette diamonds are cinched in the middle by a ring of seven sapphires in this cocktail ring designed by Granat Bros. of Tanforan. The ring is part of an 18-piece Diamonds-International Academy Collection displayed at the Diamond Ball, New York.

FOR INFORMATION CALL:

Center Office—873-2000

Manager, FRANK HAGGERTY

Promotion Manager, DON FRATE, ASPD

Rose Timms Chosen
To Head the Fashion

Miss Rose "Timmy" Timm, a veteran of 33 years in women's apparel, has been selected manager of The Fashion of Tanforan Park.

She was formerly manager of Bressman's in Hayward. The Fashion opens its new Tanforan store today offering daily, free door awards.

Miss Timm said all a person must do to be eligible is to register at the store. No purchase is necessary, but if a winner also has made a purchase, the award will be doubled, she said.

A free charge account, good for $50 a month, absolutely free for six months, also will be given.

From 1929 until 1948, The Fashion's owners, the Vegod Corporation, was a partnership operating women's ready-to-wear and shoe stores in Woodland, Red Bluff, Marysville, Yuba City, Salinas, and Santa Rosa.

The late Abe Vegod founded the store system after some 20 years' prior retailing experience in South Dakota.

In 1948, the organization was changed from a partnership to a corporation.

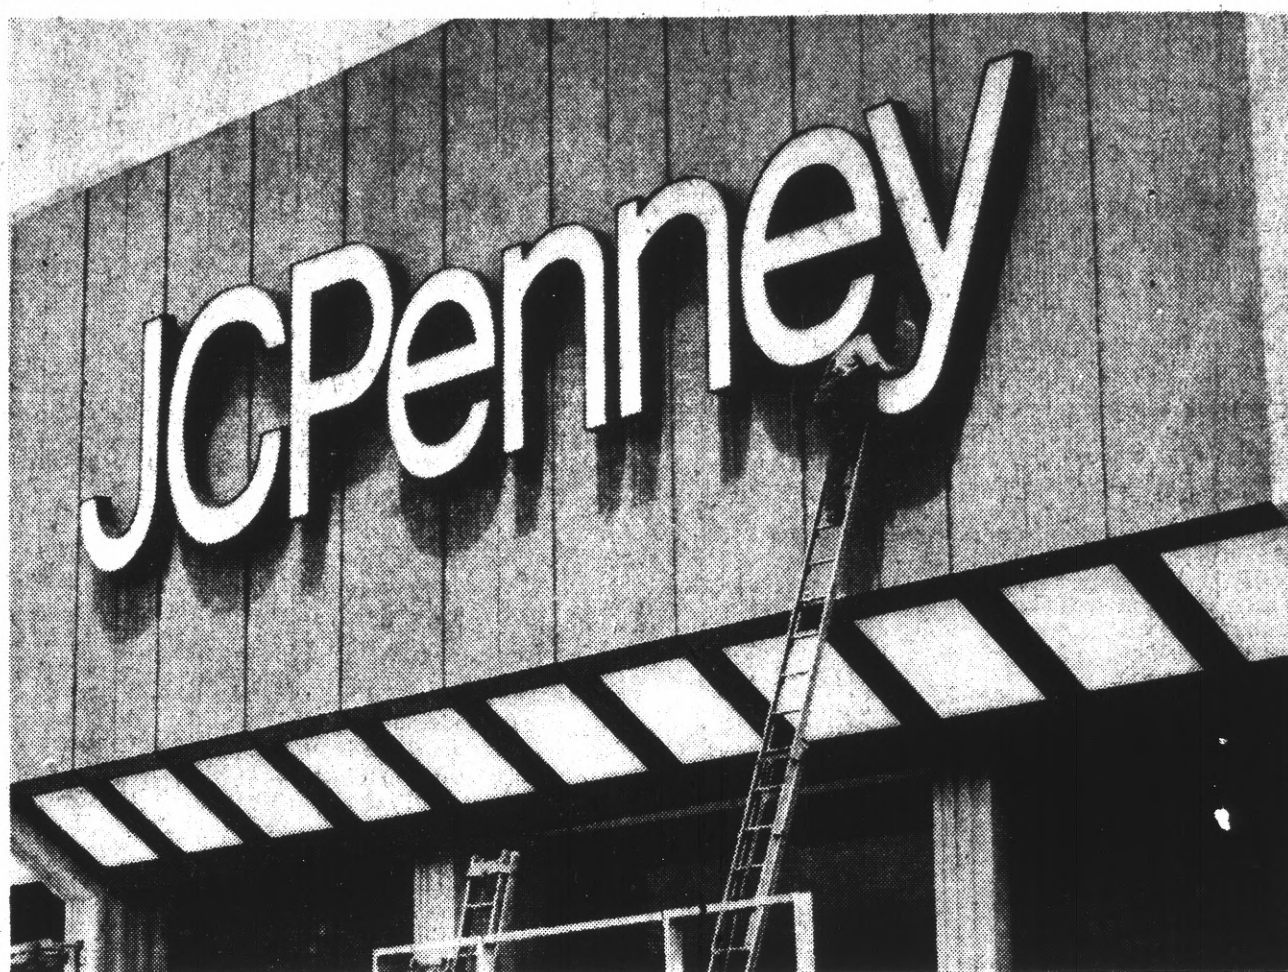

In 1951, two new corporations, Coast Fashions, Inc., and Kahn's Shoes, Inc., were formed, to make possible ownership participation by managers and employees.

The Vegod Corporation retained ownership of the new Salinas store and the Santa Rosa store, while Coast Fashions, Inc., purchased the Woodland and Marysville stores; and Kahn's Shoes, Inc., purchased the shoe stores.

In 1954, Kahn's Shoes, Inc., sold all of its assets and signified its intentions of dissolving. A new corporation, Bressman's, Inc., was founded to acquire "Bressman's" in Hayward.

Stores have since been opened in cities throughout Northern California and portions of Nevada.

Several sites are now under study for future openings, and, no doubt, as the orderly growth pattern continues, the economies effected, as well as the advantages gained from increased volume will add increased profits to this operation.

WORKMEN put finishing touches on storefront in preparation for today's opening of the Tanforan Park Penney's store.

Tanforan Park

the trees and flowers have always been part of the plans

The trees and flowers have always been part of the plans when The Hapsmith Company first conceived Tanforan Park Shopping Center. We knew that you would want such fine department stores as Sears, Penney's and The Emporium plus a wide variety of specialty shops.

We were also determined to bring the outdoors inside. Today, tall trees, beautiful flowers, fountains and benches are throughout the Center. Shopping in the climate controlled Mall of Tanforan is like shopping in a park . . . and park is part of our name.

THE HAPSMITH COMPANY
Developers of Tanforan Park
Shopping Center in San Bruno

VIVID WITH CONTRAST, Canada's third largest city, Vancouver, B.C., provides sophistication of elegant restaurants, fine shops, art festivals and modern architecture. Canadian Pacific Airlines will fly the lucky winners of Tanforan Park Holiday in Canada contest to this exciting city.

ABOVE IS THE Bayshore Inn, situated on the shore of Vancouver, B.C., harbor. The trees in the background are in the world-famous Stanley Park. Some Tanforan Center shopper may be the lucky winner of a four-day holiday in Canada. See the coupon elsewhere in this section. Reservations are courtesy of Western International Hotels.

WHEN LES SEGAL, owner of Tanforan's Hickory Farms store, orders cheese, he doesn't fool around. This 2,000-pound wheel is shown just prior to its shipment from Wisconsin. Everyone is invited to come down to Tanforan and sample a small piece of this big cheddar, and enter a fun contest . . . guessing the weight of the cheese after the sampling. The closest guess will win $100. More details can be found at the store.
